

The main topic that is relevant to my project is Social. My project will be used for the improvement of a public service and will ideally benefit society. It is imperative that I maintain empathy throughout this process because this is a project that can either positively or negatively impact people's lives. I will have to be aware of the possible biases in the data that I am using as to not harm the communities that I am trying to serve. There are also some legal constraints. I will be using data that is not publicly available, so I will have to be especially careful with information and data security. I will have to discuss this thoroughly with the appropriate representatives. Another constraint I will have is budget. The kind of work that I will be doing will require the use of GPUs. I may be able to access these resources through UC, but if not, I will have to find other ways to access such resources.
